Hook up with one of Atlanta’s most popular spots for summer fun and learning. Registration for Camp Carlos, art day-camp, begins on March 15th!

Early registration for Carlos Museum Family Members March 1st through the 14th!

The sessions will use the Museum’s permanent collections—ancient Egyptian, Near Eastern, Classical Greek and Roman, the Art of India and the Himalayas, and African Art. In all Camp Carlos sessions children will learn about original works of art from past cultures while being introduced to new studio skills to make their own original and contemporary creations.

The Camp’s first session begins Monday, June 10. The last day of Camp is Friday, August 9. There will be no Camp the week of July 4th.

Camp Carlos sessions run 10:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. Monday through Friday. Fee: $170.00 per week, non-members and $145.00 per week, for Museum members. Aftercare is available from 3:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. for $50.00 per child per week. Space is limited. Pre-registration is required. We suggest that you register early as sessions fill quickly. You will be notified if a session is already filled. For more information, or to receive extra registration forms, call (404) 727-0519.

Students at Camp Carlos will be provided with a beverage at lunchtime and an afternoon snack. Brown-bag lunch is taken outdoors on Emory’s beautiful and historic quadrangle. Students should dress in comfortable, washable clothes. Students enter and exit the Carlos Museum on the Plaza level (on South Kilgo Street—under “the pyramid”). Doors open at 9:50 a.m. Pick-up begins at 3:00 p.m.

Our Staff
Each session of Camp Carlos is taught by experienced local artists, all of whom are professional educators. It is a policy of the Camp to employ only experienced teaching staff. We hire teachers and camp counselors on the basis of recommendations and personal introductions. These factors greatly increase the suitability and quality of our staff.

Camp Sessions

June 10-14

Finding Space
For ages 10-12
(Site Sculpture)
Explore architectural spaces in the Carlos Museum and around the Emory University campus with environmental sculptor, Jeff Mather, to find space for contemporary site art. Create collaborative outdoor sculptures using lumber and other materials. Our work will activate the sites in fresh and expressive new ways. We’ll have fun learning about the art of different cultures while exploring spatial perception and environmental awareness. Please note: Student sculptures will be on site for the Summer.
June 17-21
Finding Space
For ages 7-9
(Site Sculpture)
For a description of this session see the previous week.

About Jeff Mather: Atlanta artist, Jeff Mather, has directed dozens of community-based, collaborative public art projects, from Georgia to Massachusetts. He is a visiting artist with the Atlanta Partnership for Arts in Learning, and the Georgia Council for the Arts Artists-in-Education Program, and Young Audiences of Atlanta.

June 24-28
Enduring Evidence
For ages 7-9
(Sculpture and Multi-media)
What makes a monument? Search for ritual fragments, memorials, shrines, pillars and tomb art in the Carlos Museum with sculptor Gregor Turk. You will create sculptural projects in clay and other media using ancient sources for inspiration. These sculptures will combine ceramic modeling with mapping and spatial relationship skills.

July 8-12
Enduring Evidence
For ages 10-12
(Sculpture and Multi-media)
For a description of this session see the previous week.

About Gregor Turk
Gregor Turk is a critically acclaimed Atlanta sculptor whose sculptures, photography, and two-dimensional works are primarily concerned with geographical features and cultural landmarks.

July 15-26
Walk Like an Egyptian...
For ages 8-12 (Dramatic arts-A special two-week session)
Walk like an Egyptian, sing like a Mesopotamian, dance like an ancient Greek, (those cats could jump and jive)! Ancient cultures are brought to life in a delightful way as drama students prepare a musical comedy production. Professional theater educator Julia Prittie teaches basic elements of stage work and hones acting skills in this two-week drama experience. The result will be a performance/adaptation of two children’s plays about ancient Greece, Rome, Egypt and Mesopotamia.

About Julia Prittie:
Professional actor, dramatist and storyteller Julia Prittie teaches creative drama, and drama workshops for Atlanta area schools including The Westminster School and Westchester Elementary. Ms. Prittie has spent the past six summers directing productions for the school system of Duxbury, Massachusetts.

July 29-August 2
Sacred Spaces (multi-media, ceramics)
For ages 7-9
Come along with artist Robin Bernat to explore how rituals, objects, images and sound can transform an ordinary room into a sanctuary, a meditative or enlivened space. Looking at oil lamps, amulets and headdresses in the Carlos collection, we can create our own ritual objects and rethink the spaces we occupy. Using ordinary materials like string, newspaper, light, sound, and rhythm, we’ll construct unique environments.
August 5-9
Sacred Spaces (multi-media, ceramics)
For ages 10-12
For a description of this session see the previous week.

About Robin Bernat: Robin Bernat is a multi-media artist working in film/video, sound and spoken word in creating installation works in galleries and museums throughout the US including the 1999 Whitney Biennial. She recently completed an artist residency at the American Academy of Rome, exploring ancient pilgrimage sites.
