Play your way through ancient Egypt on Xbox consoles courtesy of the Microsoft store in Lenox Square. Gamers will be able to preview the newest offering from the Ubisoft franchise, Assassin's Creed Odyssey, set in ancient Greece and scheduled for release on October 5, 2018. Assassin's Creed Origins: Discovery Tours is rated T for Teen. Assassin's Creed Origins is rated M for Mature.

In a lecture titled “Touch and Tactility in Maya Art,” Megan O’Neil, assistant professor of Art History and faculty curator of Art of the Americas, discusses ways in which the sense of touch is invoked or stimulated in ancient Maya art, writing, and the experience of things.

Join Curator of Works on Paper Andi McKenzie for a look at Chimera: Andy Warhol through the 1980s, followed by a screening of Warhol's Velvet Underground films with Lou Reed, curated by Atlanta film scholar and founder of Film Love, Andy Ditzler.

Don’t miss the last opportunity to tour the exhibition Divine Felines: Cats of Ancient Egypt with Melinda Hartwig, curator of ancient Egyptian, Nubian, and Near Eastern art. Space is limited and registration is required by calling 404.727.6118.

Take a break before finals to join curators, conservators, and students as they present recent installations of a Zulu beaded outfit in the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts and a Himba headpiece in the Carlos Museum, followed by a larger discussion of the ways in which conservation informs the study and display of African art at these two institutions.