OUT OF AFRICA

Atlantans gathered to celebrate the Museum of Emory University's grand opening of their special exhibit “Life and Death in the Pyramid Age: The Emory Old Mummy.” Co-chairs Laura Clappier and Gene Hooff hosted and presented delicious eats and cocktails in a Middle Eastern Bazaar where we spotted guests dancing “like an Egyptian.” Proceeds from Bacchanal support the education and outreach initiatives that the Museum undertakes each year, reaching over 30,000 school children and countless K-12 schools across Georgia. —Adia Dightman
