NEW THIS WEEK

The Undefeated

This illustrated poem is a love letter to black life in the United States, from an award-winning author and contributor to NPR's Morning Edition. The Undefeated highlights the unspeakable trauma of slavery, the faith and fire of the civil rights movement, and the grit, passion, and perseverance of some of the world's greatest heroes. The text is also peppered with references to the words of Martin Luther King, Jr., Langston Hughes, Gwendolyn Brooks, and others, offering deeper insights into the accomplishments of the past, while bringing attention to the endurance and spirit of those surviving and thriving in the present. For ages 6–9. $17.99, hardcover.

Timeline: A Visual History of Our World

Take a journey through the history of our planet... This is a perfect introduction to history for young and old, through a lens that captures myths and legends, dinosaurs, the great civilizations, kings and knights, discoveries, and inventions. Timeline shows the human race building settlements, fighting wars, exploring the oceans, living in castles, yurts, and skyscrapers. It takes our planet from the Big Bang to the threats of climate change. And it does not neglect the imagination—here, too, are dragons, icons, and fictional heroes rendered in hip/retro illustrations. For ages 10 and up. $29.99, oversize hardback.

My Painted House, My Friendly Chicken, and Me

“Hello, Stranger-Friend,” begins Maya Angelou's story about Thandi, a South African Ndebele girl, her mischievous brother, her beloved chicken, and the astonishing mural art produced by the women of her tribe. With photographs of the very private Ndebele women and their paintings, this unique book shows the passing of traditions from parent to child and introduces young readers to a new culture through a new friend. For ages 6-9. $7.99, paperback.

It's a Great, Big Colorful World

One winter morning, Otto the cat looks out the window and sighs, "Why is everything so gray today?" Luckily his friend Leon the chameleon is around to show him just how many colors there are in the world. In these exciting and funny spreads filled to the brim with brilliantly illustrated objects, Otto and Leon identify people, places, and things of every hue. On pages dedicated to infinite shades of a single color, Tom Schamp's brilliant drawings play with perspective and unexpected pairings. An enormous Bengal tiger lords over an orange-tinted world, while a giant blue whale dwarfs elephants, pairs of jeans, and police officers. Throughout the book, clever puns and allusions will elicit plenty of laughs from parents and children alike. Parents will enjoy the numerous ways color is depicted, and kids will spend hours looking for their friends Otto and Leon as they traverse the busy pages. Best of all, this delightful adventure comes to a perfect end when all the colors come together in one beautiful, joyful rainbow of fun. For ages 2-5. $19.95, hardcover.

Pancakes to Parathas: Breakfast Around the World

From Australia to India to the USA, come travel around the world at dawn. Children everywhere are waking up to breakfast. In Japan, students eat soured soybeans called natto. In Brazil, even kids drink coffee—with lots of milk! With rhythm and rhymes and bold, graphic art, Pancakes to Parathas invites young readers to explore the world through the most important meal of the day. For ages 6-9. $17.99, hardcover.

Celtic Tales: Fairy Tales and Stories of Enchantment from Ireland, Scotland, Brittany, and Wales

Selkies, wyverns, witches, and giants. Perilous quests, true love, and animals that talk... The traditional stories of Ireland, Scotland, Brittany, and Wales transport us to the fantastical world of Celtic folklore. These timeless tales brim with wit and magic, and each one is brought to life with elegant silhouette art in this special illustrated edition. For middle readers to young adults. $22.95, hardcover.

The Story of Gilgamesh

Godlike Gilgamesh, King of Uruk, has built a beautiful city, but he is also a terrible tyrant. In answer to the prayers of his oppressed citizens, the gods create Enkidu, a wild man whose destiny is to first fight Gilgamesh, and then become his lifelong friend. When they— together—kill the Bull of Heaven, Enkidu must pay the ultimate price. In his grief and fear of his own death, Gilgamesh goes on a journey to discover the secret to immortality. Translated from the Italian edition. For ages 8-12. $19.95, hardcover.

The Odyssey: A Graphic Novel

Odysseus, King of Ithaca, wants nothing more than to return home to his family; however, he offends the sea god, Poseidon, who dooms him to years of shipwreck and wandering. Battling man-eating monsters, violent storms, and the supernatural seductions of sirens and sorceresses, Odysseus will need all his strength and cunning—and a little help from Mount Olympus—to make his way home and seize his kingdom from the schemers who seek to wed his queen and usurp his throne. Award-winning graphic artist Gareth Hinds masterfully reinterprets Homer's story of heroism, adventure, and high action. For ages 12 and up. $16.99, paperback.

The Iliad: A Graphic Novel

In this stunning graphic novel adaptation—a thoroughly researched and artfully rendered masterwork—renowned illustrator Gareth Hinds captures all the grim glory of Homer's epic. Dynamic illustrations take readers directly to the plains of Troy, into the battle itself, and lay bare the complex emotions of the men, women, and gods whose struggles fueled the war and determined its outcome. This companion volume to Hinds's award-winning adaptation of the Odyssey features notes, maps, a cast of characters, and other tools to help readers understand all the action and drama of Homer's epic. For ages 12 and up. $16.99, paperback.

Flower Power:
The Magic of Nature's Healer

German artist Olaf Hajek's fantastical and mesmerizing art is familiar to many adults. Now young readers can enjoy his work while learning about the fascinating health benefits of flowers they encounter every day. Hajek's paintings spring to life, populated by insects, birds, fruit, and fairytales that illustrate the drama of the natural world. Accompanying each painting are engaging texts that explore various cultural and medicinal aspects of the flowers as well as their importance to artists, writers, and healers. As they learn how iris roots were used to alleviate teething pain in babies and how poppy plants led to the invention of the salt shaker, kids will also get to know a garden's worth of blooms from wild roses to carnations and peonies to marigolds. Kids will look at flowers in a whole new light and will delight in this beautiful keepsake of botanical illustrations by a celebrated artist. $19.95, hardcover.

Children of Blood and Bone and Children of Virtue and Vengeance

The bestselling first two books in the Legacy of Orisha series for young adults conjures a stunning world of dark magic and danger in a West African-inspired epic fantasy tale. Zélie Adebola remembers when the soil of Orisha hummed with magic. Burners ignited flames, Tiders beckoned waves, and Zélie's Reaper mother summoned forth souls. But everything changed the night magic disappeared. Under the orders of a ruthless king, maji were killed, leaving Zélie without a mother and her people without hope. Zélie has one chance to bring back magic and strike against the monarchy. With the help of a rogue princess, Zélie must outwit and outrun the crown prince, who is hell-bent on eradicating magic for good. $18.99 and $19.99, hardcover.

Classic Myths to Read Aloud: The Great Stories of Greek and Roman Mythology

this complete compendium of Greek and Roman mythology, specially arranged by an educational expert, is designed specifically to be read to children ages 5 and up. Fascinating histories of many common words that originated in these myths provide a perfect way to raise a child's level of "cultural literacy." Selections include Jason and the Golden Fleece, stories from the Illiad and the Odyssey, and more. $16.00, paperback.

Match a Mummy: The Ancient Egypt Memory Game

Travel back in time to ancient Egypt with this new children's matching game, developed in partnership with the British Museum. Locate and match up the pairs to learn more about how the Egyptians lived; includes 20 matching pairs of 40 cards, and a booklet with explanatory text. For ages 7 and up. $16.99, card deck.

Aru Shah and the Tree of Wishes (Pandava Quartet, #3 in series)

Just published! When intelligence from the human world reveals that the Sleeper is holding a powerful clairvoyant and her sister captive, 14-year-old Aru and her friends launch a search-and-rescue mission. The captives, a pair of twins, turn out to be the newest Pandava sisters, though, according to a prophecy, one sister is not true. Roshani Chokshi, an Emory graduate, offers a new adventure in her series, inspired in part by her visits to the Carlos Museum as a student. For ages 9-12. $16.99, hardcover.

Yokai Attack! The Japanese Monster Survival Guide

Yokai are ethereal sorts of beings, like ghosts, nearly always encountered at night; everyone has their own take on how they might look in real life and what sorts of specific characteristics and abilities they might have. This book is the result of a long study of eighteenth-century illustrations from the National Diet Library in Tokyo in order to bring you detailed information on almost 50 of these amazing creatures for the first time in English. Alongside each illustration is a series of "data points," with each yokai's significant features at a glance—especially handy for any potential close encounters. For ages 14 and up. $15.95, paperback. Also available: Yurei Attack! The Japanese Ghost Survival Guide

Can You Hear the Trees Talking? Discovering the Hidden Life of the Forest

Wohlleben established himself as a global advocate for forests and our relationship with trees. In this book for children, he asks surprising questions about trees with exciting quizzes, photographs, and hands-on activities to help even the most reluctant learners discover the answers. Did you know that trees have parents and tree grandparents with wrinkles? That tree kids go to school for hundreds of years? That there is such a thing as the forest internet? For ages 8-10. $17.95, hardcover.

Egyptology

In 1926, four years after the discovery of King Tut's tomb, the feisty Miss Emily Sands, leads an expedition up the Nile in search of the tomb of the god Osiris . . . but soon vanishes into the desert, never to be seen again. Written as a (fictional) travel journal from 1926, each page covers a distinct area of antiquity with papyrus pull-outs, pop-up art, mini books, and fold-out maps, and an envelope in the back with period postcards. This book includes the ancient Egyptian game of Senet, including board, pieces, original-style dice, and rules. The book also includes a souvenir booklet showing how to read simple hieroglyphs and even even (on paper) a scrap of textured "mummy cloth." For ages 8-12. $24.99, hardcover.

D'Aulaire's Book of Greek Myths

In this illustrated oversized classic are the gods, goddesses, and legendary figures of ancient Greece—mighty Zeus, with his fistful of thunderbolts; gray-eyed Athena, goddess of wisdom; Helios, the sun; and greedy King Midas—lavishly depicted by Caldecott winners Ingrid and Edgar Parin d'Aulaire. In a relaxed and humorous tone, these splendid artists bring to life the myths that have inspired great European literature and art, creating a book readers of all ages will cherish. For ages 8-12. $19.99, paperback.

Why Is Art Full of Naked People: And Other Vital Questions about Art

This irreverent and informative primer asks tricky questions about what makes art art. What is with all the fruit? Why is art so weird nowadays? There are questions about how art views the world, from cave paintings through to Cubism, from the Renaissance to contemporary art, questions about different genres, including still-life painting, landscapes and portraits, and questions about the role and value of art in the past and today. The book is structured around 22 questions, each one tackled over two spreads. Through this provocative approach it offers an introduction to art history and a toolkit to enable young people to feel confident asking questions, searching for answers, and “reading” art for themselves. $19.95, hardcover.

Nelson Mandela's Favorite African Folktales

Another longtime favorite in our bookshop! Mandela selected these 32 tales with the specific hope that Africa's oldest stories, as well as a few new ones, be perpetuated by future generations and be appreciated by children throughout the world. Most of them were, in fact, first told in various African tongues around evening fires in centuries past such as those from the San and the Khoi, the original hunter-gatherers and livestock herders of Southern Africa. Translated from the original languages—Karanga, Nguni, Xhosa, and others—these folktales are a testament to the craft of storytelling and the power of myth. For ages 9-12. $17.95, paperback.

Warrior Queens: True Stories of Six Ancient Rebels Who Slayed History

Award-winning author Vicky Alvear Shecter is also a long-time Carlos Museum docent, and her newest book shines a light on six powerful ancient queens. Highlighting women warriors who ruled in ancient eras, like Hatshepsut in 1492 BCE Egypt, and Zenobia in 260 CE Palmyra, the stories span the globe to reveal the hidden histories of queens who challenged men and fought for the right to rule their queen-dom. For ages 9-12. $17.99, hardcover.

Mythology: Timeless Tales of Gods and Heroes

Monsters, mortals, gods, and warriors: Since 1942, readers have chosen Edith Hamilton's narratives to discover the world of Western mythology. From Odysseus's adventure-filled journey to the Norse god Odin's effort to postpone the final day of doom, Hamilton's Mythology not only retells these stories with clarity but shows us how the ancients saw their own place in the world and how their themes echo in our consciousness today. This new deluxe hardcover edition, published in celebration of the book's 75th anniversary, is fully illustrated throughout with all-new, specially commissioned art. For young adults and up. $29.99, hardcover.

A Dragon on the Roof: A Children's

Book Inspired by Antoni Gaudí

Set in Casa Batlló, one of Antoni Gaudí's most renowned buildings, this joyful story introduces young readers to the architect's work, inciting their curiosity and imagination along the way. While her nanny is sleeping, young Paloma hears a noise. She climbs the stairs of her house until she reaches the roof, where a dragon is perched. Unafraid, Paloma reaches out to pet the dragon - but he is ticklish, and as he laughs, he spews a host of sea animals that he had unwittingly swallowed. The house is transformed into a dreamy aquarium and the dragon settles into a deep sleep on the roof. Cécile Alix's playful story and Fred Sochard's boldly graphic illustrations are the perfect accompaniment to Gaudí's exuberant vision. The end of the book includes a brief history of Gaudí's career and provides helpful background to Paloma's story. $14.95, hardcover.

You're Snug with Me

At the start of winter, two bear cubs are born, deep in their den in the frozen north. "Mama, what lies beyond here?" they ask. "Above us is a land of ice and snow." "What lies beyond the ice and snow?" they ask. "The ocean, full of ice from long ago." And as they learn the secrets of the earth and their place in it, Mama Bear whispers, "You're snug with me." Large single- and double-page spreads showcase beautiful, minutely detailed art produced by digitally-enhanced pen and ink drawings. Booklist Editors' Choice: Books for Youth, 2018. $17.99, hardcover.

Ancient Egypt Adventure Activity Book

For family and homeschooling fun! The pages are crammed with puzzles, anagrams, codes, spot-the-difference challenges, coloring pages, and other engaging activities. For ages 4-8. $9.99, paperback.

Why the Sun and the Moon Live in the Sky: An African Folktale

This African folktale tells how the sun and water once lived on earth as friends, but because the sun failed to build his house large enough, he and his wife, the moon, were driven into the sky when the water came to visit them. This beautifully illustrated folktale is based on a retelling first published in 1910. $7.99, paperback.

Mythologica: An Encyclopedia of Gods, Monsters and Mortals from Ancient Greece

Uncover the colorful lives of 50 powerful gods and goddesses, earth-dwelling mortals, and terrifying monsters in boldly designed spreads, each featuring a figure from the myths including their name in Greek, their defining attributes, and a summary of their story, along with multiple sidelights providing additional facts. Interspersed with the profiles are summaries of famous mythological tales and historical events, like the Odyssey, the Trojan War, and the story of the Argonauts. The electrifying visual portraits were created from a combination of photography, painting, and cut-paper collage to better express the blending of human and fantastic traits. For ages 8-12. $35.00, hardcover.

Buddhist Mandalas: Coloring Pages for Kids and Kids at Heart

The word "mandala" is based on an ancient Sanskrit idea for "circle," but this circular form has come to stand as a symbol of unity, wholeness, and cosmic order in many cultures around the world. Kids of all ages will enjoy bringing 25 of these colorful Buddhist mandala designs to life with markers, pencils, or crayons in this engaging coloring book. Other titles in this popular coloring book series include African Masks, Greek Gods, Greek Goddesses, Masks of Bali, Egyptian Mummies, and more. $9.99, paperback.

Star Stories: Constellation Tales from Around the World

For thousands of years people have looked up to the night sky and told stories about the stars. These epic tales tell of vengeful gods and goddesses, of monsters and heroes. Others try to make sense of the natural world or unravel the mysterious forces of the universe. This stunning book brings together 23 of these legends from all over the world from Ancient Greece to North America, Egypt, China, India, and the South Pacific. $19.99, hardback.

Sitting Still Like a Frog: Mindfulness Exercises for Kids (and Their Parents)

This introduction to mindfulness meditation for children and their parents describes what mindfulness is and how mindfulness-based practices can help children calm down, become more focused, fall asleep more easily, alleviate worry, manage anger, and generally become more patient and aware. The book contains 11 practices that focus on just these scenarios, along with short examples and anecdotes throughout. Additionally, the book comes with an audio CD featuring guided meditations voiced by Myla Kabat-Zinn, who along with her husband, Jon Kabat-Zinn, popularized mindfulness-based stress reduction (MBSR) as a therapeutic approach. $17.95, paperback with CD.

The Monkey Mind
