Stamped: Racism, Antiracism, and You

This is a “remix” for younger readers of the National Book Award-winning Stamped from the Beginning, a comprehensive history of racism and the many political, literary, and philosophical narratives that have been used to justify slavery, oppression, and genocide. Framed through the ideologies and thoughts of segregationists, assimilationists, and antiracists throughout history, the book demonstrates that the “construct of race has always been used to gain and keep power, whether financially or politically,” and that this power has been used to systemically and systematically oppress Black people in the United States for more than 400 years. For ages 12-17. $18.99, hardcover.

Illustrations. For ages 9-12. $16.95, hardcover.

Popol Vuh: A Sacred Book of the Maya

The Mayans have long fascinated modern readers with their complex written language, sophisticated mathematics, and advanced astronomy. In Guatemala in 1558, a young Mayan K'iche' man transcribed what he called a sacred book that "we can no longer see." This was the Popol Vuh, the Mayans' written account of the creation of the universe, the gods and demi-gods who occupied that universe, and the story of how man was created by them. The Popol Vuh appears here in an authoritative, gorgeously illustrated version by noted Maya anthropologist Victor Montejo, who has captured all the drama and excitement of one of the world's great creation stories. For ages 9 and up. $14.995, softcover.

The Story of People: A First Book about Humankind

This is the incredible story of human beings unfolding before our very eyes. When did the first humans live? How did humans spread all over the world? How has science and technology changed the way we live? And what will happen to humans in the future? The team behind The Story of Space and The Story of Life present a fun and colorful first book about the human world for young children, looking at how humans evolved and the history of humanity up to the present day. For ages 6-9. $14.99, hardcover.

Why Is Art Full of Naked People: And Other Vital Questions about Art

This irreverent and informative primer asks tricky questions about what makes art art. What is with all the fruit? Why is art so weird nowadays? There are questions about how art views the world, from cave paintings through to Cubism, from the Renaissance to contemporary art, questions about different genres, including still-life painting, landscapes, portraits, and questions about the role and value of art in the past and today. Through this provocative approach the book offers an introduction to art history and a toolkit to enable young people to feel confident asking questions, searching for answers, and “reading” art for themselves. $19.95, hardcover.

Warrior Queens: True Stories of Six Ancient Rebels Who Slayed History

Award-winning author Vicky Alvear Shecter is also a long-time Carlos Museum docent, and her newest book shines a light on six powerful ancient queens. Highlighting women warriors who ruled in ancient eras, like Hatshepsut in 1492 BCE Egypt and Zenobia in 260 CE Palmyra, the stories span the globe to reveal the hidden histories of queens who challenged men and fought for the right to rule their queendoms. For ages 9-12. $17.99, hardcover.
